GovTogetherBC

GovTogetherBC is an online hub that lists citizen engagement and community-building opportunities. Citizens can visit the hub to see ways they can get more involved and help shape BC government policy, programs, and services. GovTogetherBC supports the government in its objective to become more transparent and accessible and includes both provincial and regional citizen engagement opportunities, and posts many of the citizen engagement outcomes, so citizens can see the recommendations or plans they helped shape.

On BCDevExchange

We're on BCDevExchange to help provide context for the Projects and Resources we're sharing with the community, hoping that this will help encourage developers and entrepreneurs to engage with the GovTogetherBC Program.

Environmental Reporting BC

Environmental Reporting BC provides access to scientific data and information about our environment and how it relates to British Columbians. The program uses the best available data on B.C.'s environment to produce indictors, maps, and graphs that track trends and conditions over time, reports information that is easy to find and understand, helps track progress towards sustainability, and provides for informed decision-making for individuals and policy makers.

On BCDevExchange

A number of opportunities are available for coders, analysts, students and scientists to engage with the Environmental Reporting BC program, to help enhance its analytical tools and environmental reporting products.
